In celebration of this year's March Madness season, FlannelJax's is inviting local basketball fans to come to its location in Grand Rapids with a photo of their rival team to use as an ax-throwing target.

The March Madness ax fest is happening through Monday at FlannelJax's Grand Rapids location, 601 Lake Michigan Drive NW.

Participation is free with the purchase a one- or two-hour ax-throwing session and will help Grand Rapids basketball fans let out their frustrations this March Madness season.

FlannelJax's currently is operating at a limited capacity and following all local health and safety guidelines. Masks are required and social distancing between groups is enforced.
