

This roundup of Dallas restaurant news is loaded with dishy dish

By Teresa Gubbins | July 15, 2021

There's a fun collection of items in this roundup of Dallas restaurant news, including mysterious openings, summer menus, happy hours, and pizza. There are chicken nuggets — some vegan, some not — and a potential lawsuit in the works.

Here's an especially dishy, action-packed episode of Dallas restaurant news:

Cicis has reopened its Garland location at 4750 N. Jupiter Rd., once again offering pizzas, salads, wings, and desserts all for around $6. This includes their Original Unlimited Pizza Buffet, which had been put on hold due to the pandemic. The Garland restaurant, which opened in 1986, was Cicis' second-ever location, so that's pretty cool.

Link to coverage: <https://bit.ly/3ib80NZ>